

Bearing Tubes

FOR AUTOMOTIVE & INDUSTRIAL APPLICATIONS

Tailor made for automotive and industrial applications

Hot and cold rolled tubes

With over 60 years experience, Vallourec is a European leader in the production of seamless high precision tubes and net shaped rings, designed for bearing, mechanical industries and oil & gas applications.

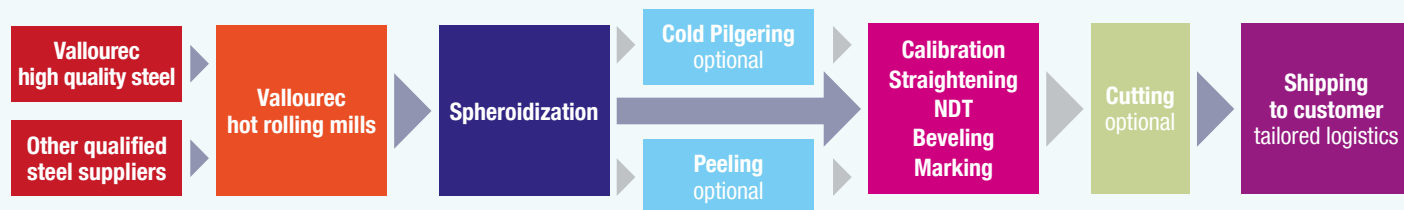

Vallourec provides hot and cold rolled tubes, as well as cuts, to customer specifications. The most demanding customers can rely on our long established state-of-the-art manufacturing processes, high quality steel, unique heat treatment and finishing lines, exceeding EN 10297 standards. You can request any tailor-made dimensions within our available range and count on our outstanding production facilities to produce a nearly gapless size range. Furthermore, an exclusive cold rolled process helps reduce eccentricity and improve tolerances, generating less scrap during your machining operations and optimizing your global performance.

In addition, the supply chain is completely adaptable to all your needs and specific requirements regarding size orders and logistics solutions.

Vallourec mills are certified at the highest quality standards and provide you with the most complete solutions for today and for the future.
